

DAILY PRAYER

(for the week of June 5 - 11)

O God, you who are powerful in the world and dear to our hearts, we praise you with song and thanksgiving, with gratitude and wonder! Today, we remember you in the breaking of bread and the sharing of a cup. You are our satisfaction in the wilderness, our grace in the desert, our hope of paradise.

Your word to us today is broken bread. We know that broken bread is shared among close friends and family. But we know, too, that broken bread reminds us of the broken body of Jesus. O, help us to see that, sometimes, only with broken bread and a poured cup can we celebrate the fullness of your life in this world.

No word or symbol, song or prayer, is sufficient to hold your presence or your grace. Sometimes only in broken things are new things possible. Only in brokenness can our world hope to be changed enough to make room for you. Amen.
